

Project Sheet Hell's Kitchen 3

Location East London

Timing 8 weeks

Budget £500,000

Series three of Hell's Kitchen ran from Monday 3rd September to Monday 14th September 2007.

3 Star Michelin chef Marco Pierre White was in charge, training 10 celebrities to be professional chefs and produce mouth watering dishes for a restaurant of discerning celebrity diners.

Throughout the series, viewers voted for the celebrities they wanted to keep in and the eventual winner was Barry McGuigan the former world boxing champion.

ecsec successfully tendered against a number of other companies for the building and fitting out of the restaurant, two kitchens, the living area and the garden all of which were created from scratch in studios in East London.

Unique features included perspex balustrades, ceiling rafts, light boxes to take bespoke lighting systems and two way mirrors to allow filming to take place.

The project took 8 weeks to complete and the value was £500,000.

We found the team from ecsec to be enthusiastic, pro-active and extremely professional. They did a great job and we will work with them again.

Project Sheet Hell's Kitchen 4

Location East London

Timing 7 weeks

Budget £400,000

Series four of Hell's Kitchen ran from 13 April 2009 until 27 April 2009.

Once again, 3 Star Michelin Chef Marco Pierre White was in charge, training 10 celebrities to be professional chefs and produce mouth watering dishes for a restaurant of discerning celebrity diners.

In a change from the previous series' it was Marco himself who sat in judgement of the celebrity chefs and if they failed to come up to standard they were banished to the restaurant to serve the guests or sacked, although viewers did get to vote in the final, with the eventual winner turning out to be Linda Evans, the former star of Dynasty.

ecsec again successfully tendered against a number of other companies for the building and fitting-out of the restaurant, the kitchens, the living area, the garden and Marco's office, all of which were created in an East London Studio.

The project took 7 weeks to complete and the value was £400,000.

ecsec were delighted to be appointed for the build and fit-out for series 4 of Hell's Kitchen.
